FOREWORD

IÉSEG student clubs and associations... A world that may seem complicated to you, yet one that will allow you to have the best years of your student life.

But what is an association? Generally, an association brings together people with the same hobbies, projects, and values. This group of people unites for the same goal: to experience unforgettable moments in the IÉSEG community.

Prepare yourself to join this big family that gives life to the School. You will inevitably find something in it that will make you thrive, as IÉSEG brings together 52 different types of associations: athletic, artistic, professional, humanitarian, etc.

Its goal is to supervise the five major intercampus events of the year (IÉSEG Weekend, Sports Weekend, Artistic Weekend, Gala, Ski School), to allot financial resources equally to the clubs and associations, and to make a link between the School's students and its administration.

The goal of these student associations (also known as AEI) is to manage, finance and advise around 20 associations per campus in their various activities. The AEI look after the proper distribution of resources and look after project planning to make sure that events throughout the year run smoothly. Does all of that seem like a lot to take in? Don't worry, you will soon hear people talking about these AEI and be able to find your way in the organization of IÉSEG's associative life!
