ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT OF ACCOUNTING

The department consists of 15+ academic staff members in the areas of Accounting and Management Control. Faculty members specializing in management accounting and control have been successful in publishing their research papers in top-tier refereed international journals in areas of (amongst others): the design of management accounting and control systems; sustainability control packages; the dynamics of audit committee practices; as well as governance and financial reporting ethics.

The School provides ample resources to support a variety of both research interests and methods, and has comparative advantage in promoting cross-disciplinary research that is needed in the modern business world. The school subscribes to Business Source Complete, WRDS, Thomson Reuters Eikon, Datastream and Bloomberg among others. The School maintains an excellent network with overseas institutions for collaborative work.

JOB QUALIFICATIONS

The candidate is expected to show evidence of strong teaching skills and/or professional experience and a commitment to research excellence. He/she will teach at undergraduate, graduate and postgraduate levels and contribute to the design and development of the Department's programs.

Applicants should possess a PhD in Accounting (or be near completion for the post of assistant professor) and be able to provide evidence of publication potential in reputable academic journals. Applicants should be completely fluent in English as all courses will be taught in this language. Prior knowledge of French is not required as the School will provide French courses to faculty members.

For appointment at the Associate/Full level, applicants are in addition required to have (a) extensive higher education teaching and relevant research experience; (b) a strong publication record in top-tier refereed journals; and (c) good networks in both academia and professional circles at regional and international levels. Candidates with less experience will be automatically considered for appointment at Assistant Professor level.

SALARY RANGE

The salary is competitive. Housing search assistance is provided by IÉSEG. Employees also benefit from French social security benefits, complementary health insurance, a contributory pension scheme and a complementary bonus scheme for high-quality research publications.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE

Candidates that wish to apply are requested to fill in the following form and upload their application package consisting of a cover letter, curriculum vitae (mentioning the names, affiliations, and email addresses of two referees), research and teaching statement, one working paper and recent teaching evaluations merged into one PDF document, indicating name and reference code MA20.

In addition, 2 recommendations should be sent separately to:
